Mike Regina is intentional.

Mike is an entrepreneur, a philanthropist, a family man, a team player, and a leader who thrives on observing the masses and doing the opposite. Mike does it better, too.

Getting up at 3:30 am to attack each day is just the beginning. Connecting 1,000's of people a year strategically for the purpose of increasing their business is not a typical model for growing a company. Creating multiple multimillion-dollar companies that do not compete on price is a classic blue ocean strategy.

Mike's entrepreneurial journey started when he launched a car wash and detailing business in high school. He understood at a young age that working for others would put him in a box and be a lid on his achievements. Additionally, Mike recognized that delivering a great product and service with a smile and a genuine interest for each client was critical to a successful business.

Mike has since developed key strategies to remove the lid by being intentional, impactful, and reciprocal within his communities. He continued his unrelenting entrepreneurial drive by co-founding multiple companies including Big Sky Enterprises (www.bigskyllc.com), a construction management firm specializing in healthcare, non-profits, and automotive in 2003; and Global Post Auditing Solutions (www.globalpostauditing.com) in 2016, a leader and disrupter in transportation freight solutions for Fortune 500 companies.

Mike currently resides in Haddonfield, New Jersey, with his wife and three children. Surfing, golfing and exercising still keep his competitive blood flowing as they have since his youth. When not fostering personal and professional community development, he is often found at the athletic fields supporting his kids.

"Mike's unique perspective on building an authentic personal brand based on "social capital" resonates for every demographic and profession. His ability to genuinely connect with people and create networks that open up opportunities for others is unprecedented in my experiences and welcomed by so many."

David Thompson, Bongo Marketing & Media LLC

"Mike was the first person who came to mind as a speaker for my inaugural Quarterly Networking for Collaboration events in 2015. He demonstrates the importance of Social Capital online and at events he hosts throughout the East Coast. I have instituted several of his ideas within my business and am finding them very beneficial in growing my network and revenue."

Claudia Hawkins, Ethics Training and Consulting, LLC

"Ask anyone who knows Mike and they would tell you he's a master of social capital. What I learned from him not only grew my own network, but I was able to become a connector for others. Since implementing Mike's strategies, I've had 5x increase in opportunities and DOUBLED my income!."

Darrin Maconi, CEO and Founder of COYL

"Being older, and not growing up in the Internet age, I was unfamiliar with the term "Social Capital" and its potential until hearing Mike's presentation. He was as engaging and entertaining as he was informative and persuasive."

Stephen Rosales, Attorney, Boston, MA
